Favors Plaintiff: Verdict in favor of the plaintiff was rendered by the six-man jury called in municipal court to decide the action brought by German Wehman against William H. Vatterman, a civil suit growing out of contract. The costs, $18.17 were taxed against the plaintiff.

An interesting program on "Myths and Folk Lore" was given at the meeting of the Philomathesian club on Saturday afternoon. The speaker was Mrs. C. V. Kerch described the country as "the land of enchantment and fairies and the land of the unknown." The singular tales of the people one must go back into the antiquity of history. Some of the time were made into songs and poems or dramatic recitals and given abroad by professional story tellers. These tales should be given word for word so the same tale has been passed on practically unchanged for a hundred years. The people almost everything of good or bad luck is attributed to the influence of the appropriate fairy. It is a common belief and it is thought that on certain nights, the powers of darkness are abroad. The robin is considered a harbinger of good and bad luck accordingly. Many amusing incidents has been ruined this winter. You can't tell what to plant or where to plant it. Children have been barefoot much of the time since January. We are too far south to raise apples, peaches, cherries, pears or plums, they bloom too early and get frosted. This is my third winter in Texas and I like Wisconsin winters best.

Truly,
GEO. J. KELLOGG.

MONDAY'S MARKETS.
Chicago, March 13. With a third of the year's cattle than expected, yesterday's prices advanced 15¢ to 55¢, making a 25¢ gain in ten days. Quality was unusually poor.
Receipts of live cattle totaled 10,000, being 10,000 beyond expectations. One load sold to a speculator at $15.10, last week's top.
Receipts for today are estimated at 10,000 cattle, 10,000 hogs and 15,000 sheep. On the market, 1,355 hogs and 12,821 sheep a year ago.
Average price of hogs at Chicago was $14.81, against $13.94 Saturday. $1.13 a week ago, $9.55 a year ago and $6.85 a year before last.
Cattle Trend Upward.
Beef steers advanced 15¢ to 25¢ yesterday on a light run. Demand brisk. Best on sale made $12.40 with bulk at $10.50 to $12.00. Higher grades steady. Good to choice calves steady.

FINDS CALIFORNIA A LAND OF BEAUTY

J. F. Carle Sends Description of Scenic Splendors of Southern California.

In the following letter to the Gazette, J. F. Carle describes the scenic splendors of California, where he and Mrs. Carle are spending the winter.

Los Angeles, Cal., March 2.
Janesville Gazette:
Thinking that the friends in Janesville might be interested in a little description of a trip we just took out here in California, will try and give you a brief account of the trip.

We left San Francisco, Friday morning, and made the trip, one hundred and forty miles, through one of the most beautiful and scenic countries ever seen, over a route, down through valleys, until we almost met ourselves going around the curves. The roads are paved all the way by the state and most of the time as smooth as the paved streets in Janesville.

The sights we saw are beyond my power to describe. The land runs along the Pacific ocean about thirty miles. On one side you see the ocean and on the other beautiful farms and villages, the trees loaded with blossoms, and some with fruit. The land is so fertile that they are getting ready to plant their sugar beets, of which they raise a large amount. At San Diego, which has a population of about 100,000, we saw many of the articles they had when the fair was in full blast. It was well worth looking at—equal to anything I ever saw.

We then went across to Coronado Island, which is a lovely place and there are some very fine homes here.

We saw one of the largest hotels in the state, which is filled at present with tourists. The rates are thirteen dollars a day and up. Did not stop there very long. Also saw two large United States gunboats, one very large. The sailors were drilling and looked fine. We saw several flying machines, and saw a great sight. Then we went back to Los Angeles, riding nearly four hundred miles, and good roads all the way. No wonder that people enjoy them. We expect to go from this part of the world in a few days to Wyoming, then back home and go to work again.

SEEKS TO ESTABLISH FRIENDLY RELATIONS

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS)
Washington, March 13.—Major General Pershing, commanding the southern department, apparently has embarked on a campaign to establish better feeling between Americans and Mexican residents on the border. Describing his recent visit to Matamoros at the invitation of the Mexican civil and military officials, General Pershing reported to the war department today that he had found "improved relations, and believed his trip would have a good effect."

"Have just returned from an inspection of the Brownsville district," the report says, "where I found improved relations between Americans and Mexicans. Visited Matamoros yesterday at the earnest solicitation of both military and civil officials of both Matamoros and Brownsville, returning visits made by Mexican officials. Was accompanied by several staff officers and civilians of Brownsville. Was received with utmost cordiality and escorted at luncheon and at a local theatre. Believe visit will encourage good feeling between people on both sides of line."

Compensation Is Demanded

For the Evil That Beer Has Done

Who Shall Pay This Compensation? Who Has Done This Wrong?

The Brewer? He honestly supposed that Beer was a Benefit.
The Man Who Drank the Beer? He is probably dead or hopeless.
The Whole People? Surely, where many have suffered, all must help

To Whom Shall the Compensation Be Paid?

To the Brewer? He got what pay there was as he went along.
To the Man Who Drank the Beer? No, but to his Children?
To Ourselves? Yes, and to All Who Come After Us.

How Shall Compensation Be Paid?

Prevent the continuance of Beer in Janesville.

Formerly, both in Europe and in America, it was supposed that beer was beneficial to health and happiness; at least, it did no harm.

Now, it is known in all countries that beer is an insidious enemy.

Dr. Clement Dukes, Physician to Rugby School, says:—"Beer is a drug which deadens the will power and excites the animal instinct of the young. Its relation therefore to immortality is most momentous."

Dr. Hugo Hoppe of Konigsberg, Germany, says:—"Because the symptoms of chronic alcoholism appear more slowly, and are less readily observable in the heavy beer drinker than in the whisky drinker, the former is by far more frequently met than the latter. But thousands and tens of thousands of men who take their daily pint are rendered stupid, silly and dissolute by beer."

Dr. S. H. Burgen of Toledo, Ohio, says:—

"I think beer kills quicker than any other liquor. The beer drinker is much worse off than the whisky drinker, who seems to have more elasticity and reserve power. Beer drinkers are absolutely the most dangerous class of subjects a surgeon can operate on."

The Life Insurance Companies report that—

"They expect a man otherwise healthy, who is addicted to beer, will have his life shortened from 40 to 60 per cent."

RASH ON HANDS ITCHING INTENSE

Also on Arms. Scratched Almost Night and Day. Turned to Crusts and Disfigured. Tremendous Burning.
Curticura Healed, Cost $2.00.

"A little rash of pimples came on my hands and arms, and later spread to my shoulders and face. Itched and burned intensely. I scratched almost night and day. The pimples then turned to yellow crusts causing great pain when I washed. I was disgusted for the time and could not possibly put my hands in water. At night I barely shut my eyes on account of the terrible itching and tremendous burning."

"I sent for a free sample of Curticura Soap and Ointment. I noticed a great improvement so I purchased more, and when I used two boxes of Curticura Ointment and four cakes of Curticura Soap I was healed completely." (Signed, Miss Mattie W. Selke, 6024 Justine St., Chicago, Ill., Sept. 2, 1916.)

If you have a poor complexion improve it by using Curticura Soap daily and Curticura Ointment occasionally.

For Free Sample Each by Return Mail address post-card: "Curticura, Dept. R, Boston." Sold everywhere.

WEATHER FORECAST.

Snow and rain tonight and probably Wednesday; not much change in temperature. Fresh to strong easterly winds, becoming variable.

A MILITARY UNIT.

In days gone by Janesville had two military companies that vied with each other in keeping to the front in the state guard. It was a perfunctory system then; ask any of the old guard organizations and you will find this correct. They went into state service when needed and performed their duty like men. At Eau Claire, in the early eighties, they took their part like men, later at Milwaukee, in the famous Bay View riots, they showed themselves men.

In Ninety-eight they responded, as had their forefathers in the days of the rebellion, to the call to arms, and sent out a company that did credit to the city and the country. Rock county has given many men prominent in military circles to the army of the United States. Its loyalty has never been questioned. It has given its best—Generals Randall, Ruger, and two others of the same name who attained prominence in the war of the rebellion. Stonewall, Harlow, Jackson, and dozens of others who proved themselves loyal to the flag. Valentine, who lost a leg, others who lost an arm, men who suffered from privation in prison like B. H. Baldwin, Wilson Lane, who served two enlistments; you could go through the list of the G. A. R. past and present, and find examples all demonstrated the loyalty to their flag.

Today, after many years of inactivity, we have a military unit of the Wisconsin national guard established in the city. The enlisted men of the company are enthusiastic over the prospect of keeping up the old prestige of the city and county. In recent years a man from a Janesville company has risen to the rank of Brigadier General of Volunteers, Major Richardson, U. S. A. It is an incentive to all Janesville guardsmen.

Organized last summer, the company was handicapped by the lack of equipment. The members drilled faithfully and did their best to learn the intricate movements of the school for the soldier. The state sent a drill sergeant here to teach the enlisted men and then came the government inspection. The result was discouraging. Had it not been for the interest of the enlisted men, the real, genuine work of the non-commissioned staff in the work of the company might have passed by the boards and been condemned. As it was, it was placed on probation for a year.

In order to remedy this defect the state has ordered General Charles King and a lieutenant of the Wisconsin National Guard, who has acted as drill sergeant here, to teach the officers and the men the rudiments of the school for the soldier. The adjutant general's office recognizes that Janesville and Rock county has done for the nation in times past, when needed, and is willing to give the local company every opportunity possible to make good. It is up to the men themselves to accomplish results.

It is true an officer makes or breaks a company, but with the able assistance of General King, himself a Wisconsin boy, a graduate of West Point, a veteran of the Spanish war, where he won his rank of general, and with Lieutenant Caldwell to aid him, as well as Sergeant Woods, a regular army sergeant, detailed to aid in drilling state guard organizations, the Janesville Second Separate company can surmount ordinary difficulties and become a credit to the city and state guard.

GOLD AND PRICES.

Following the Boer war the world's output of gold rapidly advanced with important economic consequences. The decrease in purchasing power forced down the price of securities held for fixed income, compelling investors to extend their risks in order to maintain his standard of comfort. Commodity prices advanced and in the fifteen years since 1902 the credit secured by this gold has unquestionably stimulated speculative periods of more or less duration.

But the world's output for the past few years has tended to equilibrium. Two thirds of the world's gold since 1850 has come from the British empire and it need hardly be said that South Africa is still the largest producer. According to the figures of the London Statist, last year's output for the world showed a decrease of $10,000,000 from that of 1914. Except for the Russian output in the United States, the war has not involved any gold producing area. It has, of course, an important bearing, and it is interesting to speculate upon what may happen after the war with a gold production stationary at a level to which the business of the world may be said to have adjusted itself.

All the nations engaged in war have inflated their currency more or less and indeed our federal reserve system offers us a possibility of the amazing total of $3,000,000,000 of credit. With the world's gold supply stationary, it will take some years at the best to fortify the immense European paper emissions. This necessarily enhances the purchasing power of gold, and it seems logical to assume that when the sovereign will buy more, securities held for fixed income, like Consols and French Rentes, will advance, and a movement extending over a considerable period, may be expected which will reverse that which set in after the Boer war and the redundant supply of gold.

This sounds academic, and it is not desired here to ignore the immense size of the war debts. When the inevitable result of the rapid increase in the world's gold production was pointed out in 1902 and 1903 in these columns, the prediction was denounced as "academic," also, particularly by those people who had no self-interest in suits of war borrowings, but especially of the higher grades. Many influences will operate after the war to affect the world's economic condition and it is just as likely to avoid giving excessive importance to a single factor. But gold is a condition and not a theory, and its future influence deserves more study than it receives.

REAL HUMOR.

There hasn't been much humor about the present diplomatic situation. It is all grim, dreadful, really. But even in the blackest night there are flashes of lightning. In the threat of war there is occasionally an international smile. Such must be suggested by the proposition that Mexico with help from Germany, may win back Texas, New Mexico, and Arizona, and perhaps part of California. The Germans are not such simpletons as seriously to entertain any such proposal. When they get ready to strike it will be at more accessible points. It will be the great seaport cities with their vast treasure, and at the exposed munition plants and shipyards.

But this suggestion shows about how high they rate the intelligence of Carranza and his coterie. No doubt all seems rather real to our bewhiskered friend of Guadalupe. The Mexican temperament does not see things in relation to cold facts. Probably they have all along cherished the dream of seeing their lost territory would again be theirs.

A German-Mexican-Japanese attempt to overrun the southwest border may be dismissed as a fantastic dream. Supplies would have to be shipped half around the globe, accessible to attack by every submarine prowler. Mexico, with all its anarchy, its lack of railroads and distribution facilities, could not feed an army.

A force even of trained soldiers attempting to cross the Rio Grande would face hard. Not to speak of the physical difficulties of the desert ranges. They would confront on the border a type of man who has not lost the pioneer habit and tradition. The Plains states would pour forth a great army of fellows, trained to action, resourceful in wild life, sharpshooters since infancy. When our enemies feel ready to fall on us, it will be in places where this pioneer resourcefulness and vigor has died out as men become clerks and merchants and indoor workers generally.

In the old fashioned novel, they tell in love on the first page and got married on the last. In the modern story they get married on the first page and divorced on the last.

There is a widespread feeling on the part of the people who never contribute to charity, that the money given the Billy Sunday campaign could be spent more usefully somewhere else.

It is not likely that a great many men will raise vegetable gardens this summer, as it takes so much time to gather at the hangouts and discuss the cost of living.

The principal qualification for given at the motor shows by people with a five dollar bill in their pocket, is the relative advantages of the $2,000 cars.

It is believed that the United States will rise in its might and defend its honor whenever it is proved that business prosperity requires it.

It must be difficult for many congressmen to know what to do when they have to wait so long for their orders from the kings of Europe.

It is not true that there is anything in the senatorial courtesy rules requiring the senate to be courteous to the American people.

When a person smells of onions today, it is not regarded so much as offensive to the senses as an arrogant display of wealth.

The principal qualifications for congress in the past was a long-winded speaker who could talk long enough to prevent the rest of the body from doing anything.

Another common cause of food riots occurs when Friend Wife is six minutes and fifteen seconds late in getting dinner ready.

Anyway if the Germans could hear some of the motorcycles coming down the road they would surely run.

The Daily Novelette

YOU CAN'T GET AWAY FROM IT.

The receipts for "Go Away a Little Closer, You Mine," and only amounted to $80,000 that week, and Iz Knott, the music publisher, leaning back in his swivel chair and puffing delightedly at his fifty cent Tambo, did not even turn his head when Floodmarker Pannas, the world's youngest and niftiest composer, bustled in.

"Somepin wonderful, Iz! Somepin great!" he announced as he sat down at the office piano. "Here, how's this?" (Tinkle, tinkle, blif, tinkle.) "Meet Me Near the Tissue Tree." How ya like it?

"Well, here's 'Oh, Carolina, Your Feet Go Finea.' (Tinkle, tinkle, peep, tinkle.) How about it?"

"Extra punk!" murmured Iz sleepily. "All right, here's a Hawaiian number. Called, 'Those Hypnotizing Hawaiian Hips.' I'll cash it off for you."

"Don't bother—I'll take it on the name alone—awell!" cried Iz Knott. "That's what I call a novelty, friend. Here's a piece for eight hundred advance royalties."

And the next week the insatiable public started buying and playing its four hundred and sixth Hawaiian song.

LACROSSE WANTS STATE BAR MEET NEXT YEAR

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.] La Crosse, March 13.—La Crosse lawyers have invited the state bar association to hold its 1918 session here. W. S. Burroughs, 32, was elected president. Thomas Aschmann, E. ## Whitewater News

Whitewater, March 13.—Mrs. Adeline Metcalf died Saturday, March 10, and the funeral was held on Monday with burial at Oak Grove cemetery. She had made her home with her brother, Joel Doubleday, for the past sixteen years, and was seventy-seven years of age.

The body of Miss Mary Jane Decker was brought here from Chicago Saturday and buried at Hillside cemetery Sunday.

Mrs. Julius Johnson returned from Milwaukee Sunday evening, after a week's visit with her daughter, Rev. Schneider of Milwaukee, Mrs. J. Melius, and Mrs. Ascor Meier and daughter, Orlette, of Elmira were Sunday guests at the home of Rev. and Mrs. L. M. Stever.

The E. M. Johnson house on the corner of Main and Franklin streets is to be dismantled and torn down, and room will be made for three new houses. R. K. Coe has purchased the barn and a sixty-four foot lot off the south side, and will make the barn over into a house.

Oliver Gustavson was taken suddenly ill Saturday with acute appendicitis and was taken to the Wheeler hospital for an immediate operation. A doctor and a nurse came from Milwaukee.

Eight members of Company C went to Eagle Monday morning to act as a firing squad at the funeral of Mr. Gouff.

Frank Winnie and Earl Knecht spent Saturday in Milwaukee. The latter went on to Chicago for Sunday.

The large iron pile belonging to H. Essack is being shipped away and the neighbors are glad to see the heap become the home of hundreds of rats, mice and snakes. It is estimated that there are 500 tons of iron in this pile, or twelve cars, and sold at $1.75 per ton.

MRS. LAWSON TALKS ON DRY LEGISLATION

Prohibition Worker Speaks at Two Community Gatherings on Monday.—Predicts a Dry Nation.

There was a large attendance at the temperance meeting held at the home of Miss S. A. Jeffris on yesterday afternoon. The main address was given by Mrs. W. A. Lawson, state president of the W. C. T. U. who talked principally along the line of the national bills recently passed by the United States congress and signed by the president. These were four in number, the "bone dry" bill, the District of Columbia bill and the two bills forbidding the importation of liquor into Hawaii and Porto Rico.

The first of these was introduced as a "good joke" and as a "rider" for the postoffice appropriation bill. The author of the bill said that if prohibition territory "bone dry," and introduced the bill with the idea of having the whole thing laughed out of existence.

To the amazement of almost everyone, it went through with a big majority. The bill making the District of Columbia dry was also hardly believed possible of passage by the temperance forces, but it also carried.

The bills forbidding the exportation of liquor into the island possessions from the United States was very badly needed, since the increase in drunkenness and crime had been appalling in the last few years.

Mrs. Lawson then spoke of the outlook in Wisconsin for the temperance movement. She said that last year forty-eight cities went dry, among them Menomonie, Lancaster and New Richmond. There are now one hundred cities in Wisconsin where the dry policy is on this year. Madison has tried three times and is working again for it this year. Burnett county is the only absolutely dry county in the state.

May Defeat Referendum.

The speaker said that the brewery interests were working hard at Madison at present to defeat the referendum bill now up for debate. Their policy was to stave off the matter as long as possible, and if it came to a vote of the people to have it brought up in the spring election, when the farmers were too busy to turn out to vote.

The great civic improvement in a big city like Seattle was noted, and the recent state fights in Washington and Oregon were described.

The speaker closed with a prediction made by a noted educator and scientist in a magazine article recently, that inside of a few years no liquor will be made or sold in the United States, and the capital of industry will do it.

At the meeting held yesterday a quartette consisting of Miss May Sewell, Mrs. George Jacobs, Mrs. William Van Wart and Mrs. George Austin, gave several pleasing numbers—"Heaven Is My Home" and "The Lord Is My Shepherd." Mrs. Charles Pord served as chairman of the meeting.

At the community meeting held last evening at the residence of E. G. Owen, on Mineral Point avenue, a large number were present, filling the rooms to capacity. Mrs. Lawson was the speaker and took as her subject the "High Cost of Living."

A number of friends of the great visual illustrations of the amount of dry goods, shoes, and even for the little article of chewing gum. And then she showed the overpowering amount spent for liquor in contrast to the other items.

Rev. Perry Miller presided at the meeting and a male quartet consisting of E. Ward, B. Van Pool, E. Jones and E. R. Horwood, sang several selections, "Come Away" and "Molly and the Baby" being of the number.

Stanley Horwood sang a very pleasing solo, "Mother I Will Vote Dry," which was very appropriate to the occasion.

Heavy Death Toll Taken in Tornado

New Castle, Ind., March 13.—With the coming of daylight, search of the ruins left in the wake of yesterday's tornado which caused the death of at least 24 persons here, the serious injury of 36 others, and about 1,000,000 property damage, was reduced, and it was believed by those in charge of the relief work that several more bodies would be found. At least 150 persons were injured, less seriously and were cared for by friends without being taken to hospitals.

It was estimated this morning 200 families were made homeless and half of these would require immediate financial assistance.

FRANCE URGES FARMER TO GROW NUTRITIVE TUBER

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.] Paris, March 13.—French farmers and truck gardeners are being urged to cultivate the "topinambour" or Jerusalem artichoke, on a larger scale and thus help combat the rising cost of living. The topinambour is a tuber that grows in the poorest soil, requires little care, always yields well and possesses excellent nutritive qualities. It was cultivated in France the beginning of the 19th century. It is now much appreciated as a table vegetable.

POLICE SEEK 2 GIRLS WHO MAY BE BUT ONE

CHICAGO GIRL MISSING SINCE NOVEMBER THOUGHT TO BE HERE—ONE RUNAWAY WAS HERE FEW DAYS AGO.

CASE IS A BIG PUZZLE

At three o'clock this afternoon a girl answering the description of a missing girl was found in a local grocery. She is the one who has been in the city for some time. She was immediately taken to the city hall to be questioned by Chief Champion. At this time it is not known whether or not she is the missing Chicago girl. Here she went under the name of Rehn.

Chief of Police Champion and members of his department today directed attention to the running down of a minor girl who has been about the city for some time and, in addition, after queries from a Chicago newspaper, the officers have taken care of the girl who has been in the city for some time. She was immediately taken to the city hall to be questioned by Chief Champion. At this time it is not known whether or not she is the missing Chicago girl. Here she went under the name of Rehn.

Information from a local man who had been given another who had been given a girl who came to Janesville evidently "broke," is being investigated. The girl was taken in by a lady who conducted a boarding house on Academy street and given lodging and food for several days. Later she went to work. The man became acquainted with her and on several occasions took her out with him to meals. One day, it is said, she told him her story, and that she was not "broke," as she desired it to appear. Later she showed him her stockings. She is said to have related that her parents are wealthy and that if she needed money, she could get it. She then left her home and went to Chicago.

Chief Champion on Saturday was tipped off to the presence of this girl and planned to take her to the city hall and bring her to the station for an appraisal. In the excitement and the work of looking for Edward Albright, thoughts of her did not come into the chief's mind until last night when he was shown the newspaper's inquiry.

Today a search of all Janesville laundries was made as were the factories where girl labor is employed. The police have a description of the Chicago girl and of the other one. It may turn out that both are the same party, but the cases are so complicated that the police cannot be determined whether this is the case or not.

At a local depot this morning it was said that a girl answering the description of the one who has been here bought a ticket for either Madison or Milwaukee. At a local employment agency on West Milwaukee street, it was said that the girl was there later than five o'clock last night. The trains for Milwaukee and Madison leave an hour earlier than this time.

The Sims girl, according to Police Captain Wood of Chicago, probably either died by her own hand or was lured away by a strange man whose acquaintance she made while riding to school. The first definite opinion given by the Chicago police regarding the disappearance of the girl came from Captain Wood.

A woman who refused to give her name called yesterday on a mother-in-law of Miss Sims' sister and said one of the girl's most intimate friends, a woman ten years her senior, had caused the downfall of the girl by immoral conduct. She said the Sims girl had been seen with this woman in the vicinity of twenty-sixth and State streets recently.

Telephone operator at the Hotel Stratford, and despite her seniority an intimate friend of Miss Sims was admitted to him that she had seen the girl before she disappeared, the police say.

Mrs. J. W. Stormes, at whose home the girl spent the night before she disappeared, said she had seen the girl before she disappeared, the police say.

Miss Ford is said to have changed her address since the disappearance of the girl. The Chicago police have lost track of her.

Although only fourteen, both subjects of the local search are described to be much older in appearance.

OPEN DISCUSSION ON WEDNESDAY EVENING

Committee of Citizens Plan for Banquet at Myers House to Talk Over Wet or Dry Janesville.

Some three hundred invitations with return cards, have been sent out to citizens residing in the city and vicinity, at which time there will be an open discussion of the problem and the speakers will be held in the evening. The formal invitation sent out is as follows:

As the question of license or no license is coming up for election, we believe that the business men of our city should have an opportunity to discuss it pro and con among themselves. We have arranged for a business man's supper on Wednesday evening, March 14th, at the Myers House at 7 p. m. Your presence at this supper will not put you to either side of the question. We hope that there will be a large attendance and the friends of the cause will be able to express their views. Kindly notify the undersigned of your presence by return of the enclosed postal card to whether or not you will be present. Signed, Geo. A. Jacobs, J. M. Whitehead, Geo. S. Parker, J. E. Lane, J. W. Cox. It is expected that the question is of vital importance to citizens generally and the discussion promises to be most interesting.

HISTORY CLUB HEARS LECTURE ON MEXICO

Charles Payne of Milwaukee, Tells of Conditions Among Poorer Classes in Mexico.

A most interesting talk was given before the Twentieth Century club and their invited guests at the library on Monday afternoon at half past seven. Charles Payne of Milwaukee gave the last lecture on the course, "Old Mexico," which was illustrated with stereoscopic views. Mr. Payne is a traveler of note, having made trips all over the world. He is a student and a man of rare culture. His lectures are in great demand all over the country. He has made four trips to Mexico, two trips since he returned to Milwaukee. He has developed in that country, and has traveled over 7,000 miles in Mexico, and has been intimately associated with the people of that country. His lectures have been crushed by poverty and conditions of the country, but with it all they have that inner politeness and courtesy which they show particularly to Americans. He told of the pitiful condition of the women and children. Many follow the army where their men are fighting. They cook the food, steal or get it any way—just so they get it. They ride if they can, if not they trail along in the dirt, carrying their babies and cooking outfit. The conditions of their cities are terrible. Ten thousand people occupy a town that only five hundred would fill in this country. The rich men, owning thousands of acres, Mr. Payne said, are the only ones who are striking. He said if this country would only send the proper individuals there to teach them to read and write, they would be able to govern their own country properly. Mr. Payne in his easy, informal manner, gave to the class the most interesting lecture of the season.

FRUSTRATES THIEF IN HIS RESIDENCE

What the police department speculate upon as the revival of the "robberies" in the vicinity of the fourth ward park, appeared last night in the attempted robbery of the home of a Pleasant street, but which was frustrated by the return of Mr. Peterson. For boldness the attempt averages well up with the most daring robberies of the city has experienced in several years. Entrance was gained through a window on the east side of the residence, the thief expecting the Petersons to be away until late and so calmly used a flashlight to proceed with his work. When Mr. Peterson entered the front door the thief escaped through the back door on the west side, towards the high school. This had been looked for from the inside but the police believe that it was opened by the robber to escape. The thief was seen running in the direction of the high school, but was not seen again.

SHERIFF WHIPPLE TO ENFORCE STATE LAWS

While the provisions have been on the statute books ever since the so-called "Commitment Law" was enacted, providing for the punishment of a person selling or furnishing liquor to a person sentenced to the county jail under its provision, it remained for Sheriff Robert O. Whipple to take the first steps at enforcement. The sheriff has arrested a person who has been sentenced to the county jail, and he makes the following announcement to every person interested:

I hereby notify all persons, whether liquor dealers or not, who give, sell or furnish liquor to any person or persons who have been sentenced to the county jail, and employed by me under Section 997 of the Wisconsin Statutes, that I will prosecute to the full extent of the law.

That the penalty for such offense is not less than thirty days or more than six months in county jail.

The party furnishing the liquor, as well as the prisoner, is liable for this penalty.

ROBERT O. WHIPPLE, Sheriff.

BOARD RECOMMENDS FOR STREET WORK

The matter of considering the recommendations of the board of public works on the permanent improvement of North Bluff and South Franklin streets was scheduled for the commission this afternoon. These are the recommendations first to emit from the office of the board which cover any part of the big paving schedule decided upon by the city for this year.

City Engineer Kerch has prepared plans for the contemplated work and the improvements for the manner in which the work is to be made. The board of public works has already adopted these, and it is their findings which are to be considered by the commission.

The board today submitted plans and specifications and requested and recommended their adoption, and further, requested that the city authorize and fix a five year period during which the contractor shall be required to keep the work in good order and repair, as provided for in the specifications.

The street improvement schedule planned for this season will pave North Bluff street, between North Fifth and Hyatt, and South Franklin street, between Pleasant and Galena, together with many other blocks of streets. On Jackson street, between Pleasant and Milwaukee streets, it has been proposed to have a different type of pavement than that which is to be laid on the southerly end.

CONFESSES PART IN 1910 MURDER OF 5

Chester, Ill., March 13.—A sworn statement explaining the murder of five members of the family of George Douglas near Couteville, Ill., on the night of May 5, 1910, and naming as principal in the crime Samuel Carter, the commission suicide in St. Louis a year ago, was made today by Thos. Metzler of Sparta, Ill., accomplice in the crime. After confession he was sentenced to life imprisonment.

JEWELERS WARNED; "THIEVES ACTIVE"

State Association Calls Attention of Local Store Proprietors to Take All Safeguards On Stock.

Janeville jewelers today received warning to be apprehensive for burglars, window smashers, sneak thieves and robbers. They are operating in Wisconsin.

Will P. Sayles has handed to Chief of Police P. D. Champion a communication emitting from the offices of A. W. Anderson, Neenah, secretary of the Wisconsin Retail Jewellers' Association, which warned members and all Wisconsin jewelers to watch out for thieves whose depredations in the lower central and eastern part of the state had been brought to the attention of the organization and from which it has been deducted that the robberies are the result of organization.

"Within the past week," the correspondence states, "they have wrecked and looted the safe in President Hiram J. Smith's branch store in Kenosha, forced entry into the store of Krumrich & Conrad, Oshkosh, where they got away with valuable watches and jewelry displayed in the window, and forced an entry through the front door of W. O. Nelson's store at Neenah and were just attempting to reach the watch display in the window when they were frightened away by Nelson, who opened fire on them."

This latter robbery attempt was on last Friday night. The letter further contains a warning to take valuable jewelry and watches out of the window at night, and to look out for strangers who come to stores, especially in pairs.

BONDS

During the last ten years this bank has sold hundreds of thousands of dollars of bonds to its customers.

It has always been the policy of this bank to sell securities of its own to the people when they are in need of safe investments.

We are proud of the fact that there has never been a default in the payment of interests or principal on any securities sold by us, and no purchaser of our bonds has ever been refused when he has offered them to us for sale.

News Notes from Movieland

BY DAISY DEAN

The war has made the Canadians patriotic and they have decided to show Uncle Sam that they have the brains over there to produce their own moving pictures. So they have planned a high tariff wall to keep American films out and have organized a company which will have a picture ready for release in May. In explaining the plans of the new organization, an official of the company declared:

"The new concern is backed by aggressive and experienced theatrical men. We have completed a studio building on a nine-acre plot at Trenton, Ontario, at a cost of $35,000. It is our intention to start with the production of two features a month, which will be gradually increased to four a month, with four super-features a year.

"Among the directors already signed are Barry O'Neil, Edgar Middleton and Louis Phisick. Frederic Chaston and George Bastest are the cameramen. The stars engaged include Holbrook Blinn, Marguerite Stiner, Clifford Bruce, John Trueman, William Riley Hatch, Sadie Weston, Frederick Lewis, Mrs. Allan Walker, Herbert Prior, June Dave, Gladys Gillen, Hugh Jeffries, Fred Tadmars, Miss Duncan and T. Carleton.

DOUG RESPONDED

Douglas Fairbanks was guest of honor at a recent banquet in Brooklyn.

"Movies have convinced me," he told them, "that actions are more convincing than words. I could make a person believe I wouldn't rather see me climb the side of the house?"

They said they would, and he did, to enthusiastic applause.

When it comes to flowers realism is cheaper in California. Table decorations of real vines, green centers and red roses, which were in a recent Dustin Farnum photoplay, "Why don't you use paper flowers?" someone suggested.

paper costs more than the real stuff nowadays," was the conclusive answer.

Virginia Pearson is said to have had a "3000 rampage" in a coming photoplay. That is, producers declare that they gave her $500 worth Beach.

JUNE DAYE, Lubin leading woman, who it is announced has accepted a good contract with the new film company which has been organized in Canada.

of furniture to smash up in a mad scene she pulls off. The high cost of living worries not the vamps, does it?

If you care to work your way into Crane Wilbur's good graces, don't think that you are doing it by telling him he is "so pretty." The gentleman hath balked. He declares that he is not pretty, has never been pretty, and if he ever found out he is pretty will take a leap into the ocean at some place considerably beyond his depth.

Vola Vale has taken a house for the summer on Ocean Bluff, Long Beach, Cal.

LYMAN HOWE PICTURES ARE AGAIN DELIGHTFUL

Famous Travelogue Pictures Now Playing at Myers Theatre Opened Last Evening and Are Very Good.

The wonderful film shown at Myers theatre last evening by Lyman H. Howe, of Sir Douglas Mavor's Expedition into the deserts of Antarctica furnishes more thrills and genuine laughter than any of the manufactured thrillers could possibly hope to imitate. Comedy in rich measure is provided by the birds and animals, of which the penguins are the "headliners." As they dive from the rocks they are funny. Then when they try to feed their clamorous young on a tempt to cover six eggs, placed under them by mischievous humanity, instead of the normal two, they are funnier. But when they form in cadet-like lines to salute a ponderous sea lion they are funniest.

The almost incredible hardships, difficulties and dangers of the search for the elements in the primeval wastes of the antarctic were shown clearly.

The entrancing beauty of Yosemite National Park was also revealed in a beautiful ride over winding trails, right through giant Sequoias and past tremendous precipices over which crystal rivers tumble and swirl, and leap from cliff to cliff until they become great clouds of snowy whiteness.

Other features which were shown were Gethen, the Venice of Holland, tricks in a bubble blowing, Niagara Falls in summer and winter, insect life, pond life as seen under the microscope, how building stone is quarried in France. Birds feeding their young, women of Algeria, animal studies and one of the latest French submarines.

Thrills to satisfy the most exacting were provided by still another film showing the recent automobile race over Giant's Despair at Wilkes-Barre, Pennsylvania, where fearless drivers race their cars at tremendous speed up steep inclines and around many sharp curves.

series of stage pictures, with which the spectator is skillfully brought into the spirit of the African desert, the great, solemn wastes, which make one feel nearer to nature and to Allah, deserts as those from which have come some of the great religions of the world.

The initial curtain rises on the lonely sands with the first rays of the sun illuminating them. Passing in review come the people of the desert with their flocks and herds, including camels, horses, donkeys, goats, dogs, etc.

"MEDIATOR"—PIECE OF
HOT IRON SHOOTING
THROUGH THE SKY

New York, March 13.—"Polymyellitis is a brand of New York breakfast food," wrote a young grammar school Miss in a general information contest given to all the pupils of Germantown Friends School here. The other definitions for the word were perhaps just as venturesome. One little Johnny called it "the result of liquor," and a demure though conscientious lass branded it as "the worship of more than one god." Then there were other answers, like these:

"The first woman in Congress was Betsy Ross."

"The character Naaman appears in Omar Kajakum."

"The ukulele is an instrument of torture."

"The underground railway is the method of communication with Congress revived by President Wilson."

"A mediator is a piece of hot iron shooting through the sky."

"Shadow drama is noted for 'the slaughter of 1916.'"

Heart and Home Problems

LETTERS MAY BE ADDRESSED TO MRS. THOMPSON, IN CARE OF THE GAZETTE

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a girl who has a boy friend. I think a great deal. He used to see me twice a week, and now only once a week. I often told him that I was a girl in the world like him. I know he thinks I deceive him, because I have never met him. I was at a certain place, he says, suppose we were with another fellow. I certainly do not go with other boys, because I have never met him. I love him, but this one he accuses me of liking another boy. I am very hard to convince him that I never speak to that boy. My friend and I have everything that people tell him and he gets mad at me. I think he is very foolish. I believe the stories he hears until he gets out of his mind. When he is mad at me I get so unhappy that I don't care to live. What shall I do?

THE HIGHFLIERS

BY MRS. EVA LEONARD

Mollie Gives a Party and Mrs. Jaynes Isn't Missed Much.

Yes, all this is my wedding present. I want you to see how complete it is. I am a very fortunate woman to have such a father. I never said I do not like it, besides, I am the only father I have you know. Mollie Jaynes conducted her guests around the perfectly appointed little cottage.

Julie sat at the table dispensing tea and cake with the air of proud proprietorship, as if Mollie and her cottage was an exhibit she had set up on her own account.

"It is a proud day when a woman presides over her own home for the first time," Olive Ellison smiled down into the teacup, the face of her hostess.

"Yes, indeed, I have been so impatient, could hardly wait for the house to be finished."

"Clyde said I was like a child," Mollie laughed, "but I know who was good to leave."

"The delay in finishing," Mollie thought that it represented her from the worst kind of tyranny.

"But Mrs. Jaynes coming to see the new mistress preside?" asked Neil.

"Believe not," Neil realized her wish, she was flush on the face of her hostess. "She had no engagement, she said. She has been able to come later," Mollie began toward Julie to see if she had answered the question. But that young girl was seriously pouring tea into the unceremonious teacups. Nothing that her mother did or failed to do caused a ripple on this unusual young person's consciousness.

"I don't exactly usual to show a mistress at your initial party in your home, but I thought—"

"Oh, show us the nursery by all means," said the woman. Mollie's face was swept with a wave of color as she led the way to the second bedroom. Everybody exclaimed:

HEALTH TALKS

BY WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.

LETTERS MAY BE ADDRESSED TO DR. BRADY, IN CARE OF THE GAZETTE

DUST

When it is clear and cold and the sun is covered with snow, or when the wind is cold and the ground is covered with melting snow, the air is full of some open face sneeze or cough, and the air is full of dust. It is a nuisance to health, that it is a menace to health. Indoor dust, under filthy circumstances, may be a menace to health.

The present view of sanitary authorities (not political health officers) is that books, magazines, paper money, postage stamps, newspapers and letters do not carry disease. A street car transfer is dangerous only when it is crowded by the conductor, and then carelessly placed in the passenger's mouth—a trick many women have.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Child Sleeping With A Cold—It is unhealthy for a child to sleep with a cold person, especially with an elderly person. In New Orleans there is a man who hires a colored child of 13 to sleep with him every night because he thinks it will extend his life. (O. M. W.)

Answer—As far as the "drawing of strength" from the young person, the old man is concerned, of course that is fishwife superstition like the old man about the cat "sucking a child's breath away." But it is unhygienic for more than one to occupy a bed, because each tends to disturb the other's rest, and any infection the one may have—such as coryza or sore throat or bronchitis—is pretty certain to be passed to the other.

The Fruit-Rheumatism Question.—It is rheumatism in any way, shape or form, caused by the eating of acid foods, such as apples, tomatoes, or lemons, or the like? (M. T. E.)

Answer—The acids of fruits render the blood more alkaline, and the urine less acid than before. You may have a vague conception that rheumatism is a sort of bad luck that comes to a fellow when the weather is real mean and depressing, damp, cold, changeable, hot and cold, cold and hot, bad, deplorable, slanderable, etc. Now, as a matter of fact, there is no particular disease suggested by the name rheumatism, at least in a doctor's mind today, but a whole series of joint infections and injuries. So, you see, I don't know what you mean by rheumatism. You mean something, all right. Of course, I understand that. But to me, with only a letter to judge by, the name rheumatism identifies the trouble about as closely as the name fruit would identify a lemon or a peach in your mind.

Oh, For a Mallet!

Now, about 2 percent of our readers will read the answer to M. T. E., in which we sincerely strive hard to explain why we can't answer questions about "rheumatism," will say: "Dear, isn't he sarcastic?"

DIRECTOIRE, PEG-TOP GOWNS COMING BACK PARIS PUSHES THEM

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Paris, March 13.—(The Directoire gown has come back to us in Paris today. Soon it will be in New York and a little later it will be all over the United States.

The new Directoire, however, the famous Paris designers decree, may be used only for dinner and evening gowns. For the street it is taboo and must give way to the new "peg-top" gown which buyers who have braved the ocean voyage to Paris are paying hard American dollars here today for 1917 dress models. War permitting, the buyers and models have been back in the United States dictating what is proper for American women to wear.

At a famous Paris show room today, the American buyers, the directors, designers and many other new creations were there. It will hardly be such a lavish display of feminine ankle as American streets this spring and summer. Nevertheless, hanging frocks will hang about seven inches from the floor. An expert might describe waist-line or draped in folds or loops over the hips and tapering to a very effect is arranged by the fullness at the top buttoning into a pleat or two at the hem.

The short coat with a grey "peg" skirt is perfectly proper for the future. Red ribbed buttons may hold the side fullness to the narrow width at the bottom. Many of the new models have coats and skirts of various and different colors. Knitted silk jersey is a popular material, the designers say. Polka dotted foulards are also extremely popular and tusslers are not far behind in the running. Red, pink and crystal beads will be extensively used for trimming.

The new half gown, evening and dinner gowns will sweep clear this year—that is if the wearers are not careful to hold them off the floor. Again, an expert might say of the evening Directoire: "The skirt is long and narrow, it splits three or four inches above the knee seam."

Mannequins wearing these before the American buyers today seemed to have stepped out of the fashion books of five years ago. The skirt drapes the floor an inch all-around and trains behind. Jet crystals and finery are the newest things in trimming. The most popular of the new Directoire models is declared by the Americans to be that of black satin with blue and black crystal fringe and panels like at the sides of the knees.

Household Hints

BOSTON BEANS AND BROWN BREAD

Boston Baked Beans—One quart navy beans; let soak over night in cold water. In the morning wash, drain and rinse in fresh water. Put on to boil with plenty of cold water; add a piece of soda size of bean. Let them come to boil, drain again, cover with water once more and boil fifteen minutes. Drain again, put in earthen pot, add one tablespoon molasses, one tablespoon molasses, one tablespoon sugar; cover with boiling water, add small pieces of pork on top. Cook until browned.

Brown Bread—One cup sweet milk, two cups sour milk, two-thirds cup molasses, one cup wheat flour, four cups corn meal, one teaspoon soda. Steam three hours. Brown a few minutes in oven.

EGG DISHES.

Egg Soup—One quart good chicken stock, one cup cream or milk, one teaspoon salt, one teaspoon pepper; pour it boiling hot on beaten yolks of four eggs diluted with one-half cup milk. Serve at once in bouillon cups. Do not set on fire after eggs are stirred in.

Ox Eyes—Cut rounds of bread, toast to a pale brown, dip in hot milk, butter generously and place on buttered baking dish. Separate yolks and whites of as many eggs as there are rounds of toast, add pinch of salt to whites, whip to a dry froth and pile high on each toast round. Bake a few minutes in center of each, drop in a rook, sprinkle with salt and pepper, top with a piece of butter. Put in brick oven to brown the white; by that time the yolk will be cooked.

Spanish Poached Eggs—Heat a fat saucepan slowly and melt in a tablespoon of butter, add teaspoon of salt, small quantity pepper, small finely minced onion, some parsley and sweet herbs. Drop in eggs one at a time; do not stir, but let them brown a little. Turn carefully and brown on the other side. Serve hot.

Breakfast Egg Dish—Line pie plate with thin slices of cheese and pour over it half cup cream smoothly blended with one teaspoonful of mustard.

CROSS-PURPOSES.

Is there anything more exasperating than to do something you don't want to do, because you think someone else wants to do it, and then to find out afterwards that someone else didn't want to do it and only did it because he or she thought you wanted to?

The other afternoon when a group of five of us had planned to go for a walk, a friend called up and asked if we didn't want to go out in the machine. He had to make a brief trip and he had room for four people.

As there were five of us each one immediately insisted on being the fifth who was not to go.

Then someone suggested we decline the invitation and all go on our projected walk.

But We Thought He Would Be Disappointed.

"But wouldn't that hurt Mr. M's feelings and it was so good of him to ask us?" suggested someone.

And a tiny speck of red pepper. Carefully break six eggs into it, so they will keep their shape. Turn the other half cup of cream in and bake ten minutes. The melted cheese will thicken the cream.

EGGLESS COOKIES.

Eggless Cookies—One cup lard, one cup sour milk, one and one-half cups sugar, one teaspoonful soda, flavoring, flour to roll. Put raisin in center of each cookie. Bake in hot oven.

Cocoa Cookies—Three tablespoons lard, one-half cup sugar, one pinch salt, three tablespoons milk, one teaspoon cornstarch, one-quarter teaspoon (level) baking soda, one cup flour, and mix together, then knead in two tablespoons cocoa; roll very thin.

After baking, join in two's with the following frosting: One scant tablespoon water, one-half teaspoon vanilla, confectionery sugar—enough to make very stiff.

SANDWICHES.

Pickled Egg and Olive Sandwiches—Boil four or five eggs hard, and have them in vinegar over night which has been sweetened and heated.

Have one dozen olives pitted; chop with the pickled eggs.

Use salad dressing for holding the mixture together; very little will be required.

Use white, rye or whole wheat bread sliced thin, and buttered. Have a lettuce leaf between the slices of each sandwich, with the egg and olive mixture over the lettuce.

Mother will find these sandwiches nice for the lunch of the children, as well as for the grownups.

BANANA SALAD.

Fill a deep bowl with alternate layers of bananas, stoned prunes and fresh lady fingers. Add a little wine for flavoring and all the bowl with custard and nut butter cream on top. The prunes may be stuffed with nuts if desired.

CARAMEL FOR CAKE.

VISCONT FRENCH'S SISTER DIES FROM SHELL WOUNDS

London, March 13.—Mrs. Harley, sister of Field Marshal Viscount French, commander-in-chief of the home forces, is dead of wounds received at Monastir, Serbia. She was in the town with an ambulance of which she was in charge, when a shell burst near the ambulance.

too late to retract, that injected a decided flavor of discomfort into the situation.

Anyhow we went, and it was a cold drive, and we didn't get home until after dark.

All of this took place a week ago. Since then I have become possessed of the following facts:

That all four would really have preferred to walk but each thought the other would like the ride and each one didn't want to hurt M's feelings.

And He Was Only Doing It for Our Sake After all.

That Mr. M. himself had invited us for the sake of something we had once done for him, though his wife had wished him to take some friends of hers.

That Louise, the girl who had finally prevailed on us to let her stay home is the only one who is really passionately fond of auto riding, for riding's sake.

Such is life.

Politicians, they say, is the oil of the machinery of living. Too much oil sometimes gums up the works. There are times when a little more sincerity would be useful.

A DEPENDABLE MEDICINE

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a dependable root and herb medicine. It has made a place for itself among the great mass of people, because thousands of sick women have tried it and proved that it will accomplish all that is claimed for it. Nothing unfavorable can honestly be said about it. It does not contain injurious drugs. It is a root and herb remedy founded upon a physician's prescription, and is manufactured for a specific purpose. That it accomplishes this purpose is proved by thousands and thousands of convincing testimonials.—Advertisement.

A Binful of Fuel Big Enough To Supply All Janesville

The present shortage of coal has no terrors for those who use gas for fuel. We are prepared to deliver an unfailing, unlimited supply of gas regardless of market or industrial conditions.

And At No Increase In Price

In most Janesville homes gas is used for cooking, ironing, heating water and lighting the year 'round. If you are not taking advantage of this clean, convenient and economical fuel that is delivered in pipes and kindled with a match, you are not getting all of joy out of living that you should.

Sell the Old Dresser

since that new dresser, that you have just bought, replaces the old one. Just because you do not need the old dresser any longer is no sane reason why you should destroy it or store it away in the attic. It was good enough for you before you bought the new, and so someone now will pay you a fair price for it because he will consider it good enough for him.

A Gazette Want Ad is your best salesman to help you dispose of that second-hand dresser.

FREAKISH GOWNS AND SUMMER FURS TABOO FOR AMERICAN WOMAN

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.) Chicago, March 13.—Fashion styles in the costumes of American women are doomed.

The 1,500 designer-dressmakers, here for the sixth semi-annual convention of the Fashion League of America, said today. They will compete for prizes offered for the best and simplest designs of various gowns including tailleur, afternoon and evening.

Exhibitions of the gowns on mannequins will feature the convention, which ends Thursday evening. As an example of the pressure the designers are bringing to bear in the effort to eliminate freakish modes, the style committee has issued an edict, taboos "summer furs." No longer will there be a July day bundled to the cars in furs, if she would display good taste.

The designers, however, are discriminating carefully between the sensible and the extreme, and have therefore made no effort to banish the very practical short skirt.

"Skirts are to hang straight, with two to two and one-half yards of material. They should be six to eight inches from the ground—a tiny bit longer than last season," said Mrs. Albie E. Bailey, president of the league.

Pressures are being brought to bear on the designers to eliminate combinations of wool and silk, and the hats, parasols and other accessories are to be of contrasting color to enliven the ensemble.

GIBBONS WILL DEFEND MIDDLEWEIGHT TITLE

New York, March 13.—Mike Gibbons, long recognized as the foremost fighter in this country, and acknowledged by many to be the peer of any in the world, has declared himself champion of his class and says he will meet all challenges.

Gibbons, who is 34 years old, weighs in at 158 pounds, give or take two pounds.

"I will adhere to the old rules of the London prize ring," Mike announced. "Mike has been having the time of his life trying to force Les Darcy, the Australian, into a match, with no success. He now is ready to pass up the famous Kangaroo jumper and let Darcy do the chasing."

It would be a fine thing for boxing if Mike were given the title. It would put an end to such exhibitions as that on a short time ago in New York when Jack Dillon and Al McCoy battled. Also, it would end for all time any argument as to whether Al McCoy is entitled to the championship.

McCoy is a master of the ring, but not entitled to the championship any more than anyone else. To be a champion a boxer should be able to defeat the best in his class. McCoy hasn't even kept pace with Freddie Welsh.

There is only one real defeat chalked up against Mike since he began boxing in 1906 and that was when Jimmy Claborn was awarded a gold at the end of ten rounds with the famous St. Paul flash. He has shown badly in one or two no decision contests, among them being one with Soldier Barthfield and one with Paddy McFarland. He was generally credited with having been outboxed in both these affairs.

If Gibbons sticks to his claim and intends to defend his crown he will have plenty of supporters. Most any one will be willing to concede him the title.

Darcy seems to be in a bad way as a result of Dr. Whitman's ruling. The state boxing commission of Minnesota has threatened to bar him from appearing there, and it seems likely that other boxing centers will suit. Darcy is planning to go on the stage once more, but even there he may meet with opposition.

The Vancouver club of the Northwest has sold outfielder Ricie Walter to the Portland Coast league club, under a conditional arrangement, by which he is to be kept and paid for if he makes good. The hope is to develop Walter to succeed Billy Southworth, who has rejected the terms that were offered him.

The Mobile club announces the purchase of catcher Dave Grubbs from Wichita of the Western league. Catcher Plus Schwert from Newark of the International and Outfielder Eugene Layden from Toronto of the International. The Bridgeport Eastern league club also announces that it has purchased Layden. Who's right?

Cleveland, March 13.—Sergeant William J. Horner, 122nd Coast artillery, has been designated as drill sergeant with the Cleveland Americans. Horner is stationed at Jackson barracks, a few miles from New Orleans, the Cleveland training camp.

CHICAGO AUTO CLASSICS TO OPEN ON JUNE NINTH

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.) Chicago, March 13.—The automobile racing season in Chicago will be started June 9 with a 250 miles contest for a purse of $25,000. Practically every prominent driver in the country will compete. The event will not be classed as a championship affair, as the American Automobile association has decided to allow each track only one championship and the Chicago number is to be reserved until later in the season.

MILWAUKEE A. A. MANAGER WILL QUIT NATIONAL SPORT

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.) Milwaukee, March 13.—Harry Clark, for three years manager of the 321st Central Postal Directory, has announced his retirement from the game. Clark was offered a job as manager of the Denver team of the Western league, and later Sioux City in the same league wanted him, but he refused both offers.

CLEVELAND SURE HAS A BUSHY IN THIS

Cleveland, March 13.—Louis Guisto, the youngster who is slated to play first base with the Cleveland Americans, has grown two inches since last fall. "It weighs just the same, but my increased height makes me look thinner," Guisto explained.

GEORGE WELCH CALLED TO DAYTON WIS. BY THE DEATH OF HIS MOTHER

George Welch of 102 North Bluff street has been called to Dayton, Wis., by the death of his mother, Mrs. M. P. Welch, who passed away on Sunday. Funeral services will be held on Wednesday morning at Dayton.

Baseball's Opening and Closing Practically Same As During 1916

New York, March 13.—Judging from the various major and minor league baseball schedules made public to date there is to be little change in the general playing scheme for the season of 1917. A majority of the leagues have selected opening and closing dates which correspond closely to those of the past few years.

The chief changes are to be found in the schedules of the International League and the American Association. In round figures these two organizations have cut six weeks off their regular seasons in order to provide dates for the inter-league series of forty-eight games to be played at the close of the pennant races in the two associations.

The National and American leagues will open on Wednesday, April 11, and close on Thursday, Oct. 4, which will permit the initial game of the world's series being played on Saturday, Oct. 6. If eastern or western teams are competitors, or Monday, Oct. 8, in case the series proves to be an inter-sectional contest.

In other respects there are few novelties, the Pacific Coast league having the longest season while one or more of the class D leagues will stage the shortest pennant races. The list of opening and closing days as announced to date from official or semi-official sources are as follows:

German "Future." The action of the German Imperial Olympic Committee in changing its title to the German Imperial Committee for Bodily Exercises has aroused much speculation among athletic authorities throughout the world. Many close followers of Olympic sports have expressed the opinion that the move on the part of the German committee is an intimation that Germany will not compete in these international sports after the war. Others hold that the change of name merely marks the taking over of other duties and plans considered more necessary and pressing at this time in Germany than consideration of the future Olympic meets.

In this connection it can be said that the international Olympic committee has not abandoned the idea of these games and that with the restoration of peace in Europe there will be a determined effort made to hold an international meet within a year following the official close of the conflict. It has been intimated that the gathering may be more than a series of athletic competitions, taking the form of a restoration of peace, with imposing ceremonies and pageants to which the nations of the world will be invited to send representative delegations.

Race Prizes Abroad. The stakes which will be raced for during the 1917 season in Austria and Hungary will aggregate two million dollars. The Austrian Jockey club, Austria's biggest organization, has offered prizes totaling 3,780,000 Kronen ($635,600), while the Hungarian Jockey Club, the big Budapest organization, has put up 2,564,200 Kronen ($412,340). Other similar organizations, of which there are a considerable number in the dual monarchy, have guaranteed the four million and several odd thousand more necessary to bring the total up to ten million Kronen.
